CONDENSED TELEGRAMS.

The first car-load of Bartlett pears from Sacramento arrived in New York Monday.

Joseph E. Lawrence, one of the California pioneers, died at Flushing, Long Island, July 15th.

Judge Olin, Justice of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, has resigned, owing to ill health.

Another washout occurred on the Union Pacific Railroad on the 12th, between Antelope and Pine Bluff.

John F. Noyes, an actor well known in the West, was drowned in Harlem river by the upsetting of a row-boat on Saturday night.

The Greenback State Convention of Arkansas has appointed a State Central Committee with authority to place in the field a State ticket.

The Political Correspondence of Vienna reports that Gortschakoff and Beaconsfield have drawn up a basis for a future Anglo-Russian understanding.

The National Executive Committee of the Union League of America will meet at Brighton Beach hotel, Coney Island, New York, on the 18th instant.

The Berlin Congress terminated its proceedings on the 13th, and the treaty was signed by all the Plenipotentiaries. A grand Court dinner was given in the evening.

Dr. Carver broke 5500 glass balls in eight hours nine and a half minutes, on the 13th, at New York. He fired at 6154. The Doctor's eyes are said to be much injured by recent shooting.

The Chicago walking match in which Daniel O'Leary challenged Schmel to walk 250 miles while he walked 275, came to a close on the 13th. Schmel completed his 250 miles at 9:50, while O'Leary did not finish his 275 miles until 10:50.

Thirty cases of sunstroke occurred at St. Louis on the 13th, with sixteen deaths. Horses daily drop in the streets from exhaustion, and the cots and medical force at the hospitals have been added to, in anticipation of an increase of cases of sunstroke.

Bismarck's Closing Speech.

BERLIN, July 15.—Prince Bismarck, in his speech closing the Congress on Saturday, declared that he did not hesitate to affirm that this Congress deserved well of Europe. The Plenipotentiaries would have the consciousness of having, as far as was possible, restored and given assurance of peace. He entertained the firm hope that this European understanding would remain durable, and that the cordial relations established among the Plenipotentiaries would consolidate the good relations between their governments. Bismarck incidentally remarked that his health was such that he had scarcely hoped to preside over the Congress until its conclusion.

Among the celebrated poets whose genius was manifested at an early age, the following are remarkable examples: Tasso wrote his "Lives" to his mother at the age of nine years; Cowley completed the "Tragic History of Pyramus and Thisbe" when ten years old; Pope was only twelve when he wrote the "Hymn for Christmas day" at the same age; Keats wrote many of his finest minor poems before he reached twenty; Gray wrote Latin poems while a schoolboy; Bryant composed poetry at the age of thirteen, and his best poem, "Phantopsis" was written at the early age of eighteen.

Seven Persons Drowned.

NEW YORK, July 15.—Seven persons were drowned in the river hereabouts on Sunday. Three of them were in row boats and, being intoxicated, were unable to manage the boats.

The Berlin Treaty.

The Berlin Congress has terminated and brought peace to all Europe. The terms of this treaty are very lengthy, embracing some sixty articles of agreement. The substance of the treaty may, however, be stated as follows: Bulgaria is made a tributary principally to Turkey, but elects her own Christian Prince, and must bear her part of the public debt of the empire. Serbia gains her independence, but must pay her share of the Turkish debt. There is formed, south of the Balkans, the province of Eastern Roumelia, under the direction of the political authority of the Sultan, having administrative autonomy and a Christian Governor General. Roumelia becomes quite an independent power. She yields Besarabia to Russia, and receives the Dobruja in exchange. The Russian army in Bulgaria and Roumelia shall not exceed fifty thousand. They shall begin to evacuate the territory in nine months, three months being allowed them to complete the evacuation. Bosnia and Herzegovina shall be occupied and administered by Austro-Hungary. The independence of Montenegro is recognized. The fortifications in the Danube, from Iron Gate to its mouth, shall be razed. In every part of the empire difference of religion shall not be a motive of unfitness in anything relating to civil and political rights, admission to public offices, duties and honors, and the exercise of all professions and industries. Everyone may be admitted, without distinction of religion, to give evidence before tribunals. The practice of all religion shall be entirely free. All of the Powers signed the treaty. Thus ends the great Berlin conference. Its work has been fraught with most important ends, and that it has proved so remarkably successful places this international congress in the first rank.

Orangemen and Catholics.

On the 13th, while the Grand Trunk train, with the Sherbrook and Richmond militia, who had been to Montreal, was delayed at Tanneries Junction to allow a vessel to pass through the canal bridge, a difficulty occurred between the military and some 200 French Canadians and Irish. The soldiers said to Orangemen something about "the green," the crowd stood them and were fired upon by the soldiers. Two youths were wounded. The soldiers were ordered under arrest.

Indian Agent Stealings.

Indian Commissioner Hoyt, of the Territory of Washington, is now uncovering the gigantic frauds of Indian agent Livingston and his ring, at the Crow creek agency on the Missouri river. The Cheyenne agency has also been fleeced. The details have not been worked up, but sufficient has thus far been developed to show a fearful robbery of the above agencies. This steal has been going on for eight years. Livingston is a good Episcopalian.

Hot Weather in St. Louis.

There were over fifty cases of sunstroke on Monday in St. Louis, and twenty deaths have occurred. Almost regardless of the serious consequences, a great many persons visited the beer gardens and filled up on beer. In view of the debilitating effects of these carousals, the health officers have increased their hospital force. A number of the horses in the street cars have dropped dead.

How England will Rule Cyprus.

LONDON, July 15.—The Daily News says it is intended that the island of Cyprus shall be permanently governed by a comparatively small body of European troops, which is to be supplemented with local militia, to be organized by the officers accompanying General Sir Garnet Wolsey. The stay of the troops on the island is to be only temporary. General Wolsey is expected to arrive at Malta on Wednesday.

Wife Murder and Suicide.

CHICAGO, July 15.—At 2 o'clock this morning, Jeremiah Kennedy, an Irish laborer, living on the West side, shot his wife Mary twice, killing her instantly, and then put a ball into his own body, in the vicinity of the heart from the effects of which he is now dying. Several causes combined led to the deed.

Turkey and the Treaty.

LONDON, July 16.—The Turkish Plenipotentiaries refused to sign the treaty until the unsatisfactory state of the negotiations relative to Bosnia and Herzegovina was remedied. Count Andrássy gave a guaranty that he would make amicable arrangements before entering those provinces.

TOO HIGH INTEREST.

We take it that the primary cause of the present dullness of the times is the high rate of interest asked for money. When bare money yields such a large income as 24 per cent. per annum, men will not put their money into real estate and personal property. Merchants cannot carry out an extensive enterprise which would insure them good and safe returns for the outlay of several thousand dollars because the enormous interest would send them financially to the wall. Of course in a country where men speculate and failures are of so frequent occurrence money lenders demand larger interest. But we hold that high interest rates creates a further inducement for men to speculate. They are to an appreciable extent, crowded out of pursuits where the profits are small but sure by the high interest, and they naturally crowd into something where they may make large profits by a small investment of money. Those who own property must send up the rent to an enormous figure to make their property return them as much as their money at interest would yield. The poor man says: "Instead of putting my few hundred dollars into a home, I can more profitably loan it and with the interest more than pay my rental." They live ready to move to-morrow, and are only anxious for something to turn up for them to speculate in. A community of such men are not stable. They find that they have little to hold them to a place. Money has a disproportionate value to other property. Houses and land and live stock may do very well for a few, but the clink of the dollar is too rich music to us all. Of course to account for the dull times one must take many contributing causes into consideration, but we believe that at least a leading cause of the present depression in business is the too great value of money. Other property which is in active use, and which may be highly productive, should be in greater demand. High interest decreases the active use of money, since many cannot meet the interest required, and hence millions lie in the banks unloaned and absolutely of no use. The owners of the large amounts of this unused capital are willing to make secured loans in large sums at reasonable rates. But this does not reach the many who could borrow $100 to $1000 if they were loaned on the same terms with large borrowers. This virtual usury is against public policy since a demand is made and a price paid for the use of an article which price of use is incommensurate with the benefits received. The lessee must make a profit by means which, as a general rule is not calculated to encourage honest, stable business transactions. The result is obvious on reflection. We start into business to "make or break," and if the means we may employ are not to be commended, the end sought is so very desirable that conscience is quietly hushed down, and we have but to plunge forward to outward trumpeted success or scarcely observed failure. The failures sink down, cause a little ripple, while we who succeed ride merrily on, lost to all save the prize ahead. However, to draw pictures and make assertions is very easy work. The worthless day-dreamer, who is filled with idle words, may outpour their nothings on matters of vast importance. Else we shall justly subject ourselves to the same criticism, we have this to offer in conclusion: Small capitalists can not provide the remedy. The moneyed men must bring the relief, and their money must circulate in small as well as large towns, and in all branches of business and at low rates of interest.

The Cincinnati Commercial on Monday morning's issue publishes crop reports from a large number of places in Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky, and they indicate that there is not only a greater acreage of wheat than in any former year, but the average product per acre is larger than ever before.

It now transpires that the great Louisville race between Mollie McCarthy and Ten Broeck was a fraud, put up by one Conley, who made about $30,000 out of the affair, and every one else was duped. He hired both horses to run, and calculated that the horse should win.

KEARNEY TO THE FRONT.

At the San Francisco sand lots on Sunday Kearney bade farewell to his flock, which he consigned during his absence to the Eastern States to the pastoral care of parson Wellock. In the course of his remarks Kearney made a brutal attack upon the memory of Friedlander, denouncing him as a thief and monopolist. He announced his intention of starting his Eastern campaign in Boston, where he intended to set the workmen thinking. Kearney is a bold fellow, and as a crude, fearless revolutionist does not harbor much respect for the living or dead. It is not specially necessary that Friedlander's virtues be extolled because he lies cold in death, yet to stoutly ignore these, and denounce him as a criminal transcends the bounds of decent propriety and brands Kearney as one who delights in traducing the character of men who have much property. It must be a weak cause which finds stimulus from such crude sources. Next Sunday morning he will start for Boston to set the workmen thinking. Perhaps the authorities may provide him with board and lodging, when he may think it were better for him to be quietly attending his own business in San Francisco.

THE POTTER TRADUCERS.

At the conclusion of the examination of Kellogg before the Potter committee, the committee adjourned to meet on the 23d at Atlantic City, New Jersey. Kellogg's testimony is entirely contradictory to that given by Anderson. The latter's evidence has been so frequently and severely criticized that its falsity is quite apparent. The sub-committee is at New Orleans, examining witnesses. We have read the testimony thus far adduced, and we certainly fail to perceive anything that does not indicate that the politics of both parties in Louisiana are more or less corrupt. The witnesses are for the most part liars, since they contradict each other. There is nothing in all this inquiry that reflects credit upon any one. Probably the object was to make political capital and injure the President. The result has not been very comforting to the traducers, nor exhibited a healthy state of political honesty in Democratic or Republican quarters South.

INDIAN WAR IN OREGON.

The news from the Indian war is not very satisfactory, nor, evidently, very valuable for its reliability. The red-skins are now spreading in Oregon. A fight has just been had between General Miles and 500 Umatilla Indians. Miles had 300 infantry. The Savages were well mounted. Miles had two men wounded, and the red-skins lost about fifteen. In this battle the Indians made their first charge. Miles holds the fort, and Colonel Forsythe is coming. The town of Walula is threatened, and Grande Ronde and Powder river valleys have been deserted. Six white men were killed by the Indians at Cayuse, and the station burned. It is time the government was sending out a peace commission.

POLITICAL ASSESSMENTS.

Instead of canvassing the Departments for election funds, the Secretary of the Republican Congressional Committee has caused a circular to be distributed among clerks and others, informing them that as the rules render difficult their absence during office hours, arrangement has been made for the Treasurer to be at a specified bank from 4 to 5 o'clock each afternoon to receive contributions. A number of the clerks called on to contribute declined, on the ground that they are not politicians. It may be in order for the Democratic politicians to cast a little mud at the President; to amuse themselves by a little sly talk about government office-holders and their clerks contributing a virtual assessment for campaign purposes.

The Trustees of the Teutonia Savings Bank of New York have been arrested, charged with fraudulently diverting $29,000 of the funds of the bank just before it passed into the hands of the Receiver. Michael Hahn, Secretary of the bank, has confessed to fraudulent manipulation of money belonging to the bank, by direction of the trustees.

Senor Mata has been appointed Secretary of Foreign Affairs for the Mexican Republic.

Crime at Deadwood.

A Deadwood, Dakota, dispatch of the 13th instant says: An exciting affair occurred yesterday at Central City between parties in high life, the details of which have been suppressed by the local press. D. M. Kennedy, a Sergeant in the United States Signal Service at Lead City, was accused of the crime of attempted rape on Miss Reckwell, a servant girl in the employ of General E. E. Cunningham. The brother of the girl and the General, armed with six-shooters, struck the trail of the gay Lothario and were on murder bent. Hearing of this the Sergeant betook himself to the hills. Cunningham and the angry brother caught sight of him and gave chase, firing at the flying fugitive at every step, but missing him. At last he was overtaken, when the Sergeant gave up, fell to the earth and was belabored by the General. Wounded and bloody the trio came to Deadwood last evening, when they amicably adjusted the matter and endeavored to keep it out of the papers. This is the first instance of the kind in the Hills.

A Splendid $15 Billiard Shot

For a long time Gold Hill billiard players were considered the clumsiest ivory pushers in the State. Now Virginia city takes the palm. On Saturday evening Ben Lackey was playing sixteen-ball pool at Shof's, when the game got so close that there was but one ball left to jump into the pocket. When Ben's turn came he had a chance to get the ball into the corner pocket and save his stakes. There was a breathless stillness as he leaned over the table and made a lunge at the ball. Then came a ripping noise and a piece of the green cloth about four feet square flapped up at the end of the cue. By actual measurement it was found that the two rips in the cloth, at right angles with each other, were each three feet nine inches in length. Cost $15—Virginia Chronicle.

A Put up Job.

The Sacramento Bee says: The New York Spirit of the Times has a lengthy editorial on the subject of the Tenbroeck-Mollie McCarthy race. In it is shown that the contest was a speculative affair, gotten up by one Conley, and that Harper hired out his horse to this individual for the day. While that paper does not show that it was a put-up job, still the mere fact that Build Doble then owned Mollie McCarthy, and that the Kentucky horse was hired out to a speculator, looks very suspicious to the general public, to say the least. The people, relying solely on the names of Harper and Winters, expected to see a race from start to finish. They did not see it, it is needless to say.

The Russian centenary was celebrated in Paris yesterday, having been postponed that it might not clash with the national fete. There was an enthusiastic meeting in Meyer's circus, at which speeches were made by Marcon and Louis Blanc.

The auction sale of the Pawnee Indian reservation, containing 278,000 acres, begins at Central City, Nebraska, on Monday next. It is appraised at $750,000. The government will take $300,000 of the proceeds, and will give the Pawnees credit for the balance.

DIED.

LEEK.—In Reno, July 16th, at the Depot Hotel, Mr. E. E. Leek, a resident of San Francisco, aged 58 years.

Jottings.

— A very strong wind has blown all day from the west.
— The zephyr blows all of the dust out from under the sprinkling cart.
— Everything is very quiet in Susanville. Travel is very light to Adin and Bidwell.
— The Jones & Kinkad ore will work by the ordinary mill process with good results.
— The Independence Mining Company have declared their second dividend of 25 cents per share.
— Mr. B. F. Barney former editor of the Cherry Creek Independent left last evening for his home in California.
— The Trustees of the Reno Fire Department meet at 8 o'clock this evening, at Justice Richardson's office.
The following shipments of bullion was made last night: California, 33 bars, valued at $148,553 57, and five bars of Justice, worth $15,539 93.
— Mr. Seymore former editor of the Bidwell Herald and who has been stopping in Reno for several weeks left for Colorado.
— There will be an examination of any party or parties who make application for teacher's certificates, at the Reno school house on Friday and Saturday, August 16th and 17th. See official ad. elsewhere.
— Mr. Orvis Ring Mr. Charles Gullick and Master Edward Barber started this morning on a four weeks trip out north. They will visit Sardine, Indian, Long, Sierra, valleys, and other points in their of vacation tour.

A FINE RESIDENCE.—Alvaro Evans is building for himself a domicile in Evans' addition which will prove an ornament to the town. The foundation is of cut stone, and the building, which is ample in every way, will be two stories in height. When completed, Mr. Evans will command a fine view of the town and attract the attention of all those who appreciate architectural beauty.

The President of the Workingmen's Party in Trouble.

The civil case Mr. of J. C. Hagerman vs. Jones & Co., of the Saddle Rock, created not a little disagreeable surprise and comment. Mr. Hagerman sued Jones & Co. for money due him for supplies purchased for the Saddle Rock. Mr. Jones swore that Mr. Baum was not his partner, and that he did not propose to pay Baum's debts; and furthermore, that his partner is Mr. Johnson, a clerk for Mr. Hagerman. He, Jones, had borrowed $100 of Nellie Loudon, and owed her an additional bill of $30, both of which he paid, so he claims. The case was then terminated for a time. Later in the evening, Mr. Baum had Jones arrested for perjury. Not having the necessary bail money, Jones was put in jail until this afternoon. His case was called, and he pleaded not guilty. His trial was set down for 10 o'clock to-morrow, with bail set at $500. Mr. W. J. O'Brien went on his bond for that amount. Jones' action is generally disapproved of, and may cost him his position as President of the Workingmen's party. As in all cases of this character, there are two versions to the case. We simply present the facts as we learned them.

Saloon Row.

Yesterday afternoon several men were drinking beer and making merry in Louie's saloon on Commercial Row. Two or three others entered and one of them spoke to one of the men at the table, a Mr. Walker, an employee of the Brooklyn mine, about setting up the drinks for a lot of "bums" and asked him to go down street with him. Those with Mr. Walker said they treated as often as he did. Sharp words followed and a row was started. In the affray Walker was knocked down by Salisbury, and some one severely cut about the right eye. Frank La Point was hit on the head with a beer glass. The whole affray was the work of a few minutes, and no one seems to know much about it. We could only get partial statements of the mess. Walker was afterwards taken to the county hospital and is said to have been severely hurt. He was intoxicated at the time. From what we could learn, La Point was acting the part of a peacemaker.

Narrow Escape.

Yesterday evening, as Frank Stoddard was talking with Mr. King and others in front of Holmes & Co.'s store on Virginia street, he was shot through the hat by a man named Hyatt, a Cook at the Central Hotel on Plaza street. Frank says that he thought that some one had shot him with a flipper. One of the party suggested that perhaps the man who fired the pistol across the way had shot him. Frank took off his hat, saw the bullet-hole through the crown, and turning around, picked up the bullet. Hyatt was arrested, but claimed that he shot at a dog. He plead guilty to careless shooting, and was sentenced this afternoon to 11 days in the county jail, or pay a fine.

Which Way?

Reno has a great many steadfast citizens. They stick to anything as long as the next crowd; but this 90 degrees in the shade is beginning to tell on them. Small parties are being made up for trips to the cool spots in the mountains. Webber, Independence, Tahoe, Donner, are the places where perspiration is rare, and thitherward the star of laziness takes its way. Sunday junketings to Steamboat and the Bowers' Mansion are also frequent, and, withal, we are waking up this year to a fuller enjoyment of life.

SOIREE.—The Washington Guard Band's party last evening was poorly attended. The principal cause, no doubt, was that our citizens were not duly informed of the fact through the press. Gentlemen, give us notice ahead of time and show your card to our readers, and we believe that your monthly soiree will be well attended.

YELLOW JACKET.—At the annual meeting of the Yellow Jacket Gold & Silver Mining Co., held Monday at Gold Hill, T. G. Taylor, Geo. A. King, J. G. Fair, F. A. Little and Geo. Wallace were re-elected Trustees. The past years' receipts were $346,222 65; disbursements the same, save a balance of $97,377. Cash on hand, $539 37.

LOOK OUT.—There is a very tough lot of citizens on our streets just now, and our property-owners should keep an eye on them. Some of these are jail birds, others are in the tramp business, while all are general utility hoodlums whom it will be well to watch.

Personal.
W. C. Durno is in town to-day. He is one of Truckee's most pleasant gentlemen.

R. P. Ferguson, of Boca, alias "Old Shingles and Things," was around on Sunday and helped to mash the glass balls.

R. P. Chapin, the well-known and popular nurseryman, has just returned from a business trip which extended nearly to the confines of Oregon. He did well in the tree business, and thinks well of the northern country and its people. Looks as well as ever.

Sol. Geller, the old-timer, is out in Adin trading in sheep and stock of all kinds. Sol always could take one cow or mule and trade it into a band of beef cattle.

Jake Harris, formerly of Truckee, has gone to the eastern part of the State on a tour of inspection. Wants to find another camp with room for another tent.

DIED.—At 10:15 this morning Mr. E. E. Leek, a resident of San Francisco, died at the Depot hotel. Last Thursday Mr. Leek had a twenty-two-ounce tumor taken from his groin, since which time he was thought to have been improving. However, the seeds of death were deeply planted, and this morning his spirit took its flight. He is spoken of as a man of exemplary character, a perfect gentleman, a warm-hearted, noble man. He was unmarried. This evening his body will be taken to San Francisco for interment.

FELLOWS'
Compound Syrup!
—OF—
HYPOPHOSPHITES.
THIS DISCOVERY
Is the result of a series of Scientific Experiments based upon the theory that—for the successful cure of Wasting Diseases, the nervous system must be made vigorous and healthy.
One of the first symptoms of disease affecting either the Liver, Lungs, Heart, Stomach, or Genital Organs, is a loss of nervous power.
This is followed by muscular relaxation, weakness, and emaciation of all the organs which depend upon them for health or involuntary muscular action, the weaker suffering first.
The inventor, acting upon this idea, that the muscles and nerves depend upon each other for efficient strength and action, and that they must be treated directly in order to speedily and permanently cure diseases of the organs which they control, became convinced, after months of experiment, that no other preparation produced such potent and direct effects upon the nervous system as his Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites and excites in cases of actual organic loss, that it would restore patients suffering from those maladies.
Amongst the diseases overcome by the use of this remedy are the following:
Chronic Constipation,
Chronic Dyspepsia,
Asthma,
Chronic Bronchitis,
Consumption,
Chronic Diarrhea,
Chronic Laryngitis,
Melancholy,
Nervous Debility.
Debility, resulting from Typhoid and other low fevers, Diptheritic Prostration, Hysteria, Hypochondria, Nervous Excitability, Marasmus or Wasting of the Muscles, Aphonia or Loss of Voice, Stagnation of the Liver, Interrupted and Feeble Action of the Heart, Scurvy, No FEELINGS caused by mucous obstruction of the Biliary and Air Passes leading thereto, and Debility from various causes.
Indigestion and habitual Costiveness almost always arise from weakness of the muscles and nerves of the stomach and bowels.
In such cases, Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites has proved itself of the greatest service by inducing healthy peristaltic action of the intestines. The evacuations soon become copious and healthy, without producing the effect of purgative medicine.
Weakness of the centers and Muscles. IM-
PURITY OF THE BLOOD, and INWARD WAST-ING may be cured by attention to the regular described doses, and by due regard to the habits of life.
